

ELLENIROSE

A Graphic Design Company

ELLEN ROSE

A Graphic Design Company

ELLEN FOLEY

GRAPHIC DESIGNER

508.654.5224

ELLENROSE@ATT.NET

@ELLENROSEGRAPHICDESIGN

FLYERS ~ BROCHURES ~ MENUS ~ WEB DESIGN ~ BRANDING ~ MAGAZINE LAYOUT
STILL LIFE PHOTOGRAPHY ~ INVITATIONS ~ STATIONARY ~ PHOTO MANIPULATION

ELLEN ROSE
A Graphic Design Company

ABOUT ME

"I am a current student at SNHU studying Graphic Design, I own a freelance company by the name of Ellen Rose A Graphic Design Company, and I am an Executive Sales Assistant for a small global supply chain company"

PERSONAL

Age // 41 years

Nationality // American

Drivers license // Yes

Language // English

LinkedIn // linkedin.com/in/ellefoley

IG // @ellenrosegraphicdesign

FB // @ellenrosegraphicdesign

SKILLS

InDesign

PhotoShop

Illustrator

Dreamweaver

HTML

CSS3

AMETHYST BAY
Resort & Spa

Sit Back. Relax. Enjoy!

Overwhelmed or feeling blue?
Unidentified physical pain?
Unable to relax or sleep?

IT'S TIME TO UNWIND ESCAPE FROM THE HUSTLE & BUSTLE

Yoga on the Beach
Massages at our world class Spa
Happy Hour

SPECIAL
2 FOR 1 All Inclusive Spa Package Deal

716 Amethyst Bay Boulevard, St. Thomas, VI 00802 • 888-323-7070 • www.amethystbayresort.com

ENTER STAGE LEFT THEATER
The Resident Theater Company of the HOPKINTON CENTER FOR THE ARTS

The Drowsy Chaperone
by Lisa Lambert, Don McKellar, Bob Martin and Greg Morrison

When a die hard theatre fan plays his favorite cast album, the characters come to life in this hilarious musical farce.

May 19 @ 4:00 | 7:00 P.M.
May 20 @ 3:00 P.M.

TICKETS: $15 Adults | $10 Students - Seniors

 The Delbridge Family Performance Space
To Purchase Tickets: www.HopArtsCenter.org
98 HAYDEN ROWE STREET, (RTE. 85) HOPKINTON, MA 01748 | 508.435.9222

The Annual Royal
County Fair

It's time once again for the Annual County Fair! We are pleased to be able to provide another fun-filled week of livestock displays and shows, agricultural exhibits, pig races, food, vendors, a tractor museum, and entertainment for people of all ages!

WHEN
September 7 - September 14, 2019
Hours: 9am to 9pm Daily

ADMISSION
Seniors: $6
Adults: $10
Children 12 & Under: $5

Don't miss our exciting rides, petting zoo, fair games, and local vendors

A great time to be had by all!

The Annual Royal
County Fair

It's time once again for the Annual County Fair! We are pleased to be able to provide another fun-filled week of livestock displays and shows, agricultural exhibits, pig races, food, vendors, a tractor museum, and entertainment for people of all ages!

Don't miss our exciting rides, petting zoo, fair games, and local vendors

A great time to be had by all!

WHEN
September 7 - September 14, 2019
Hours: 9am to 9pm Daily

ADMISSION
Seniors: $6
Adults: $10
Children 12 & Under: $5

The Little Big Top Circus

Coming to your town on

Date: November 15

Where: County Fairgrounds

Time: 6:30pm

Tickets: $11.00

Come one, come all to see the lions, elephants, clowns and acrobats! The Little Big Top Circus is one of the best shows around. Bring the family and come on down for one exciting show! Bring back the memories of your childhood by seeing your favorite stunts and acts. Delicious food favorites like funnel cakes, cotton candy and popcorn will be available as well as carnival games.

Want to be part of the show? Have you ever wanted to be a clown? There will be clowning opportunities available for children ages 6 and up.

For more information and to purchase tickets, please contact us at tickets@thelittlebigtopcircus.com. Group pricing is available.

Ellen Foley
2-Illustrator Exercise
July 15, 2018

Paws Magazine

a holistic way of life

April 2019, Issue 1

Featured Article

Acupuncture Can Help Anxious Dogs

Dogs
Acupuncture and Chinese herbal therapy have been shown to greatly reduce canine anxiety.

Easy Crockpot Dog Food

PEANUT BUTTER BANANA DOG TREATS

Benefits of Dog Massage Therapy
What is Canine Massage Therapy?

CBD Oil for Dogs

Paws, April 2019

ARE THE PLANETS INHABITED?

BY
E. WALTER MAUNDER, F.R.A.S.
SUPERINTENDENT OF THE SOLAR DEPARTMENT,
ROYAL OBSERVATORY GREENWICH

THE QUESTION STATED - Part I

THE first thought that men had concerning the heavenly bodies was an obvious one: they were lights. There was a greater light to rule the day, a lesser light to rule the night, and there were the stars also.

In those days there seemed an immense difference between the earth upon which men stood, and the bright objects that shone down upon it from the heavens above. The earth seemed to be vast, dark, and motionless; the celestial lights seemed to be small, and moved, and shone. The earth was then regarded as the fixed centre of the universe, but the Copernican theory has since deprived it of this pride of place. Yet from another point of view the new conception of its position involves a promotion, since the earth itself is now regarded as a heavenly body of the same order as some of those which shine down upon us. It is amongst them, and it too moves and shines—shines, as some of them do, by reflecting the light of the sun. Could we transport ourselves to a neighbouring world, the earth would seem a star, not distinguishable in kind from the rest.

"Could we transport ourselves to a neighbouring world, the earth would seem a star, not distinguishable in kind from the rest."

But as men realized this, they began to ask: "Since this world from a distant standpoint must appear as a star, would not a star, if we could get near enough to it, show itself also as a world? This world teems with life, above all, it is the home of human life. Men and women, gifted with feeling, intelligence, and character, look upward from its surface and watch the shining members of the heavenly host. Are none of these the home of beings gifted with like powers, who watch in their turn the movements of that shining point which is our world?"

This is the meaning of the controversy on the Plurality of Worlds which excited so much interest some sixty years ago, and has been with us more or less ever since. It is the desire to recognize the presence in the orbs around us of beings like ourselves, possessed of personality and intelligence, lodged in an organic body.

This is what is meant when we speak of a world being "inhabited." It would not, for example, at all content us if we could ascertain that Jupiter was covered by a shagreened ocean, rich in every variety of fish; or that the hard rocks of the Moon were delicately veiled by lichens. Just as no richness of vegetation and no fulness and complexity of animal life would justify an explorer in describing some land that he had discovered as being "inhabited" if no men were there, so we cannot rightly speak of any other world as being "inhabited" if it is not the home of intelligent life. If the life did not rise above the level of algae or oysters, the globe on which they flourished would be uninhabited.

continued on page 18

FITNESS FOR MEN

October 2018
Special Edition

5 Simple Yoga Poses for Men

Get Back in Shape

Do Real Men Meditate?

The Benefits of Yoga

福TOWN
At Town Park Drive
Anywhere, USA 01234

Bringing our customers
the highest quality
Chinese cuisine with style and good fortune
since 2012

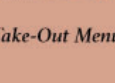

123 Town Park Drive
Anywhere, USA 01234
555-123-4567
www.town.com

Restaurant - Functions
Patio Dining - Catering

Hours of Operation
Monday - Closed
Tuesday - Closed
Wednesday - 11am to 10pm
Thursday - 11am to 10pm
Friday - 11am to 11pm
Saturday - 11am to 10pm
Sunday - 12pm to 10pm

1 Main Street
Anywhere, USA 01234

Take-Out Menu

ARE THE PLANETS INHABITED?

BY
E. WALTER MAUNOKE, F.R.S.
SUPERINTENDENT OF THE SOLAR DEPARTMENT, ROYAL OBSERVATORY GREENWICH

THE QUESTION STATED - Part 1

THE first thought that men had concerning the heavenly bodies was an obvious one: they were lights. There was a general light to make the day, a lesser light to make the night, and stars were the stars also.

In these days there existed an immense difference between the earth upon which men stood, and the bright objects that shone down upon it from the heavens above. The earth seemed to be vast, dark, and unexciting; the celestial lights seemed to be small and innocent, and scarce. The earth was then regarded as the fixed centre of the universe; but the Copernican theory has since displaced it of this noble place. Yet from another point of view the new conception of its position shakes a proposition, since the earth itself is now regarded as a heavenly body of the same order as some of those which shine about upon us. It is arranged then, and it too moves and changes - while, as some of them do, by reflecting the light of the sun. Could we transport ourselves to a neighbouring world, the earth would seem a star, not distinguishable in kind from the rest.

But as men realised this, they began to ask - "Since this world from a distant standpoint must appear as a star, would not a race of men could get near enough to it, show itself also as a world? This world seems with the above all, to be the home of human life. Men and women, gifted with feeling, intelligence, and character, look upward from its surface and watch the shining members of the heavenly host. Are none of these the home of beings gifted with like powers, who watch in their turn the movements of that shining point which is our world?"

This is the meaning of the controversy on the Plurality of Worlds, which excited so much interest some sixty years ago and has been with us more or less ever since. It is the desire to recognize the presence in the orb around us of beings like ourselves, possessed of personality and intelligence, lodged in an organic body. This is rather to mean when we speak of a world being "inhabited". It would not be exempt, at all, except as if we could ascertain that Jupiter was covered by a shallow ocean, such in every variety of fish, or that the hard rocks of the Moon were delicately sown by lichens. Just as the richness of vegetation and the fertility and

Edwin Taylor / GIRAHEB / 5/2/2010-10
Astronomy Magazine 2010 pg 14

RED ROCK CANYON
National Conservation Area

Hours of Operation
Tuesday 10am - 6pm
Wednesday 10am - 6pm
Thursday 10am - 6pm
Friday 10am - 6pm
Saturday 10am - 6pm

Coco's
Doggie Day Spa

Click to Schedule an Appointment Online

The Finest Care for Your Best Friend!
A clean dog is a happy dog. Bring your dog to Coco's Doggie Day Spa, where grooming is an art. Dogs and their owners love it here. You'll discover for yourself, a completely new world where your dog's needs are met and all your questions are answered. We are here to offer a variety of professional services for your dog.

Pamper your pup with Coco's services:

- Spa Baths
- Brush Outs
- Ear Cleaning
- Teeth Brushing
- Nail Trims
- Self Wash Tubs
- Grooming
- Massage

To find out more about the benefits of Massage, Click Here

Squeaky CLEAN, smelling fresh & looking like a MILLION bones.

25 South Main Street, Uxbridge, MA 01569 - 8001234567

FLYERS
BROCHURES
MENUS
WEB DESIGN
BRANDING
MAGAZINE LAYOUT
STILL LIFE PHOTOGRAPHY
INVITATIONS
STATIONARY
PHOTO MANIPULATION