

My Interview With Clell

This is my interview with a school lunch director named Clell Hoffman

Shackle: Do you make the rules for the food?

Clell: No, I have to follow the rules like getting the food and stuff of the state and the school district.

Shackle: Are you accountable for the school offers?

Clell: Yes, I am.

Shackle: What kind of stuff do you buy pre-made?

Clell: We buy the noodles, battered chicken, cookies, and bread pre-made and a couple of other things that I don't quite remember.

Shackle: How much of the food is made fresh?

Clell: Well, around 90% if we were giving an estimate.

Shackle: What kind of food do you serve?

Clell: Well we serve what the population of kids are buying and what they like.

Shackle: What happens to the food that is not bought for a long time and doesn't sell?

Clell: Well, we replace that food that doesn't sell for about 1 week.

Shackle: Can you serve other foods?

Clell: Yes we can, we can serve things you find in a 7-11 like foods that are unhealthy

Shackle: Where does your food supply come from?

Clell: We have the school hire people that bring us some of the food in trucks

Shackle: That concludes our interview thank you for having me

Clell: thank you for taking the time out of your day to interview me.
