

Our Story

Over 60 years ago our grandparents came over from France and brought all of their families recipes with them. Eventually we inherited the recipes and decided to share our family's heritage with everyone. 12 years ago our family opened Upper Crust Bakery in our house on the outskirts of town and slowly grew from there.

We eventually moved out of the house and turned into a full bakery. Now that business has really started to increase we made the big decision to move locations. It was sad to leave our childhood home and and the place we started our company, but we know that this move is in the best interest of our company. We are so excited to have a brand new location right in the
